......

PRICE ONE CENT.

8 PAGES.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1888.

8 PAGES.

PRICE ONE CENT.

STANLEY AND EMIN

Rumor That Osman Digna Holds Them as Prisoners.

uakim's Surrender the Price Asked for Their Release.

he Cabinet Said To Be Now Consider. ing the Situation.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—Osman Digna, in his letter o Gen. Grenfell, says Emin Bey and Henry M. tanley surrendered to the Mahdi's forces on Stanley surrendered to the Mahdi's forces on Oct. 10, at Lado, having been betrayed by Emin's own people.

As an authentication of this statement, Osman nelosed a letter from the Khedive of Egypt to Emin Bey, which was given to Stanley when he was in Cairo.

LATES.—It is rumored that Osman Digna proposes to give up Emin Bey and Stanley if Egypt will restore. Suskim to the Soudanese, and threatens, if this is refused, the death of the prisoners.

The Cabines is now discussing the situation.

JOCKEY STONE'S JURY DISAGREES. After Being Locked Up Twenty Hours They Stand Six to Six.

The jury in the case of Jockey James Stone, who was indicted for murder in the first degre for the killing of Henry Miller, in the "Gut," Coney Island, failed to agree, and were discharged by Judge Moore this morning.

They were evenly divided for conviction and equittal. They retired at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and remained locked up for twenty hours. On the first ballot they stood eight for conviction and four for acquittal. The second t added one more in favor of acquittal. The third and last ballot resulted in an equal

Stone seemed pleased at the result. He will, however, have to remain in jail pending a new

MATHEMATICS ON A DRUNK.

A Learned Professor Indulges in a Reck-less and Remarkable Tear.

Prof. Frank H. Chittenden, a teacher of mathematics, residing at 244 East Eighty-sixth street, was arraigned before Justice Ford at the Jefferson Market Police Court this morning for being drunk and disorderly. At 2 A. M. he was bounced from the Haymarket, and, later on, he turned up at a Thirty-first street place, where he turned over two or three tables.

It took six men to put him out, and Detective Perkins, of the Nineteeth Precinct, who tried to arrest him, could do nothing but keep him on his back and sit on him until assistance arrived. At the station-house Chittenden wanted to fight the Sergeant.

In court this morning he was very penitent, and said drink had made him crazy. He was given the option of furnishing $300 peace bail or spending a month on the island.

MR. HAUSTEDT DENIES IT.

He Says He Has Not Announced Himself

as a Haytian Consul. It was reported this morning that Mr. Haustedt, of the firm of Jimenes, Haustedt & Co., had announced himself as authorized to act as Consul for the northern ports of Hayti and certify the clearance papers of any vessels leaving New York for those ports.

Mr. Haustedt said to an Evening World re-porter that there was no truth in the report.

SHE MAY RECOVER IN BODY.

But Mrs. Schmitt's Reason Is Probably

Bridden, of the Presbyterian Hospital. says there is just a possibility for the recovery of Mrs. Caroline Schmitt, the unfortunate woman who leaped with her two children in her arms down the air shaft of 434 East Seventy-sixth street on Wednesday.

She is conscious, but takes no notice of what is going on around her. Her reason is gone, and it is doubtful if she ever recovers it.

Her Choice Brought on a Row.

Amelia Schoengood was walking along Forsyth street when she was approached by two excited

' Will you marry me?" asked Emil Weber, the best looking of the two.
"No, marry me," pleaded the other, Gustave Meyer. "You don't want a tailor, do you? Meyer. "You don't want a tailor, do you? I'm a cigar-maker."
"I'll take you," Amelia said, as she gazed fondly at Weber, and the two men thereupon got into a row.

A policeman arrested the three and Justice Duffy, at Essex Market this morning, fined them $2 each

Will New Hampshire Grant the Charter?

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]
MANCHESTER, N. H., Dec. 14.—The Boston and Maine Railroad has completed its survey of the territory between this city and Concord, preliminary to building a raifroad between the two cities, should the enterprise be decided upon. This would give the Boston and Maine connections between the North and Boston by way of the Manchester and Lawrence road, which it controls, and with the northern country above Concord by way of either the Boston and Maine or the Northern.

The North River Suicide Mystery. The mystery surrounding the young woman who jumped into the river from the ferry-boat

Jay Gould on Tuesday night is still unsolved. othing has been done by the police of New York or Jersey City towards investigating the case, each seeming to think that it belongs to the other to begin the search.

Had Seen Better Days. Mrs. Hashcroft-Which do you consider cor rest, Mr. Sparx, would better or had better ? Mr. Sparx.—If you refer to the beefsteak, Mrs. Hashcroft, I've had better many a time.

"He most lives who thinks the most, Acts the noblest, feels the best, And he whose heart beats quickest Lives the longest, lives in one hour flore than in years do some whose Fat blood sleeps as it stips along their reins." These lines describe that condition of perfect beaith which all men and women wish to enjoy. To be able to think clearly, to incline to do noble acts, to live long and joyonsly, we must be free from the domination of disease. By taking Da. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY WE may, by purifying the blood, escape consumption, general debility and weakness, and all blood and shim diseases, and verify the truth of postry

HE INDULGES IT BEFORE THE FASSETT THE WORDS OF GEORGE MIGOVERN IN THE COMMITTEE TO-DAY.

Personal Attack Upon the Managing Editor of "The World"...Mr. Hewitt Claims to Have Inherited a Debt From Mayor Grace's Administration - Says He'll Leave No Legacy for His Successor in the Mayoralty.

At the session of the Fassett Committee this morning Mayor Hewitt was a subposnaed wit-

He was asked whether the City Record could be run at less expense if the legal notices could also be printed.

also be printed.

The Mayor said he had always favored such a project—that is, that there should be only one paper for the publication of corporation and legal notices.

He also stated that he tried to have the law changed so that a contract for printing the City Record could be made for a number of years.

As the law now stands a contract can be made only for one year, and from the fact that a special plant for printing the City Record is necessary there is practically no competition for the printing.

The Mayor was on his mettle, and after Lawyer Boardman had excused him Mr. Hewitt said that a letter had been published by Col. John A. Cockerill which stated that the Mayor had instructed the Commissioners of Accounts to whitewash Mr. Costignn.

'I say that Col. Cockerill, if he so states, is an unconscionable liar," said the Mayor, angrily.

De Lancey Nicoll, who entered the court, recom-

"I say that Col. Cockerill, if he so states, is an unconscionable liar," said the Mayor, angrily.

De Lancey Nicoll, who entered the court-room at this point, tried to have the Committee restrain the Mayor from using such language on the witness stand; but Mr. Hewitt claimed that as he was subponned, and the fact that the accusation had been written and signed by a person, he had a perfect right to use whatever language he pleased.

The matter was then dropped, after Mayor Hewitt had reiterated that the man who made the statement was an 'unconscionable liar."

The counsel for the Committee evidently wished to excuse the Mayor from the witness-stand, but the latter took an opportunity to explain that he considered that when the Mayor, Corporation Counsel and Commissioner of Public Works signed requisitions at their different offices, he regarded it as a concurrent vote of the Board.

The system was initiated by Corporation Counsel Whitney, and continued by every Corporation Counsel whitney, and continued by every Corporation Counsel whitney, and continued by the counse of these men.

In answer to Lawyer Condert the Mayor stated the desired and the statements where the suppose the second counsel that the statements the statements are the supposed to the second counsel of the second counsel since; and Mr. Hewitt would not set up his opinion against the opinions of these men.

poration Counsel since; and Mr. Hewitt would not set up his opinion against the opinions of these men.

In answer to Lawyer Condert the Mayor stated that during his administration he believed that the city had not lost a dollar in the matter of requisitions for stationery. He believed that the heads of all the departments were honest, and if he believed they were otherwise he would immediately remove them.

When asked by Mr. Nicoll about the great increase in the appropriations for printing during his administration over that of Mayor Grace. Mr. Hewitt said that Mr. Grace had left a legacy of about $25,000, which had to be paid since.

"I will not leave any legacy to my successor," the Mayor said.

D. Lowber Smith, the new Commissioner of Public Works, was next called to the stand. When asked his opinion about having one paper for the publication of both corporation notices and legal calendars, Mr. Bmith said that he was so recently appointed that he did not consider himself competent to give an opinion.

Supervisor Costigan, who was on the stand yesterday, was again called to the stand.

Lawyer Boardman asked him if he had seen the copies of the interviews had with him by Kxpert Accountant Best. Mr. Costigan said he had seen only some of them.

Mr. Boardman then suspended his examination and Mr. Nicoll took up Mr. Costigan said that he was a member of the Legislature, a lien clerk in the County Clerk's office, a notary public and a commissioner of Deeds. He also added, with a smile, "I am also a member of the Bar."

DEATH IN A LOCKPORT FIRE.

Bridget Hall Loses Her Life in the Murphy Block.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] LOCKPORT, N. Y., Dec. 14. - The Murphy block, night. The smoke was fearful. Most of the inmates were rescued, but one woman, named Bridget Hall, aged sixty-two, living in the third story, was suffocated. When taken out her body was lifeless. Two small children of Mrs. Waterford, another tenant, were rescued by the firemen.

The fire caught in the saloon of S. S. Pierce, who also had rooms in the block. The rest of the tenants were absent and thus secaped. The total loss is about $5,000, partly covered by in-

A Coroner's jury will investigate. BLAZE AT HYDE PARK, MASS.

Relies of the Revolutionary and Civil Warr Destroyed With the Everett Hall Block.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] HYDE PARK, Mass., Dec. 14.-Everett Hall block, the most imposing structure in town, was destroyed by fire this morning. At one time it was feared the adjoining property would be consumed, but prompt work saved the business section of the town.

The principal sufferers are Timothy Ingraham Post, G. A. R., who were holding a fair in the upper portion of the building. Valuable Revolutionary and civil war relies were destroyed.
The entire loss will be about $50,000.

J. L. Duneau's Chelsen Residence Burned [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] CHELSEA, Mass., Dec. 14. -James L. Duncan's residence on Franklin avenue was gutted by fire this morning at 10 o'clock. The loss will reach $10,000.

HUNGRY JOE OFF FOR BALTIMORE.

The Final Papers for His Extradition Were on Hand To-Day.

William C. Howard, alias Hungry Joe, who has been locked up for the past ten days, awaiting requisition from Baltimore, where he is wanted on the charge of practising his old game of bunco steering on a citizen of that place, was taken to the United States District-Attorney's office this morning to await the final papers which will result in his leaving for the Monumental City in company with Chief Detective Free-burger.

burger.

Joe exhausted his only resource by procuring a writ of habeas corpus, which was dismissed before Judge Van Brunt, on the testimony of Detective Freeburger, and the detective escorted him away southward this afternoon.

Mrs. Harper Sees Her Insaue Husband. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]
COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 14.—E. L. Harper talked rationally this morning until his hobby about his supernatural powers was broached, when he his supernatural powers was broached, when he at once became wild and demonstrative. Mrs. Harper arrived last night. She is much depressed over the unexpected result of her husband's imprisonment. To The Evenino World correspondent she said that Harper had a sister who has been in an insane asylum for ten years, her mental disorder being of the same nature as that of Harper.

Frank Lee Killed on the Bee Line. [SPECIAL TO THE EVERING WORLD.]
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 14.—Frank Lee. switchman, who took the place of one of the strikers in the recent switchmen's strike, was run over and instantly killed in the Bee Line yards here this morning. His body was dragged some distance and horribly mangled.

THE MAYOR'S FREE SPEECH. "IT WILL RUIN MY LIFE!

YORKVILLE POLICE COURT.

This Boy Had Been His Father's Mainstay for Two Years-He Is Returned to the Elmira Reformatory Because He Had Unwittingly Broken a Red-Tape Regulation-His Parents Bowed with Grief. "Oh, my God! Don't send me back to that place. It will ruin my whole life."

Those were the words of young George Mc-Govern, who has just been taken back to the State Reformatory, so called, at Elmira, on the filmsily technical ground that he had violated the regulations in regard to a release on parole It was charged that he had reported to the Prison Association once a month for only three onths instead of six as required. Previously to May 15, 1885, George had been rather wild and unsettled, and for an indiscre-tion which came under the legal definition of larceny he was committed to the Elmira institu-At that time he was but eighteen years old

His record while at the Reformatory was exemplary. He never broke a rule, but was ever diligent and obedient. His term of service was emplary. He never broke a rule, but was ever diligent and obedient. His term of service was much shortened on account of his good behavior, and early in 1886 he was paroled.

He at once joined his father, who is a truckman in this city, and devoted himself wholly to furthering his father's interests.

He worked early and late, getting up with the first glimmering of dawn and trudging away to the stable at 130 Leroy street to get everything in readiness for the day's work. He was the last to leave the stable at night, too, after putting all to rights about the place.

When rallied by his former companions on his changed mode of life and asked by them to join in their frolies he invariably refused, asying that he had left his frivolity and unsettled habits behind him at Elmira. Henceforth he proposed being a different man.

About 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon Owen McGovern, who had just arrived at the stable from his day's work, noticed a strange man loitering on the opposite side of the street.

Presently the man crossed the street and entered the stable, inquiring for George, whom he wished to see "about a little matter."

George drove up shortly and was at once accested by the stranger: "How is it that you have not reported for the last two years at the Prison Association, according to rule?"

"Why, I didn't suppose it was necessary."

answered the young man, his cheek paling.
"I did report for three months after leaving the Reformatory, and thought that was all that was necessary."

"Well, I'll straighten you out. You ought to have let us hear about a vourself for six months.

was necessary.

Well, I'll straighten you out. You ought to have let us hear about yourself for six months, instead of three. However, I'll go around there with you to morrow and tell them it's all right.
You needn't be frightened. We shan't take you with you to-morrow and tell them it's all right. You needn't be frightened. We shan't take you back."

But George and his father were nervous. They beded no good from the stranger's visit.

On Wednesday evening the officer appeared at the home of the McGoverns, on Morton street, just around the corner from the stable, and asked to see George.

George came out. He had intended going back to the stable to finish some work.

"You are my prisoner," said the officer, at the same time slipping a pair of handouffs on the young man's wrists. Come along with me quietly, now, or I'll have a policeman help me take you away."

He took George to the Charles street police station, and explaining his case to the Sergeant in charge, left the young man in a cell.

The father, meantime, was wild with grief. He and his wife had placed their main dependence on George. He was the pride of their lives. Their other son, John. was but seventeen, too young to be of material assistance. The distracted mother wept and wrung her hands. Neither she nor her husband closed their eyes during the night. With the first ray of light they were around at the police station to see their boy.

The Reformatory officer turned up early and the whole party went to the Yorkville Police Court, where the officer, Emmett Hildebrandt, charged the boy with violating the parole of his institution.

Justice White expressed sympathy for the prisoner and said he regretted that according to institution.

Justice White expressed sympathy for the prisoner and said he regretted that according to the interpretation of the law, George must accompany Hildebrandt back to Elmira.

George pleaded that he was ignorant of the regulation requiring him to report once a month

George pleaded that he was ignorant of the regulation requiring him to report once a mouth for six months after his liberation. He thought he had fulfilled every requirement by reporting to the Prison Association, on Fifteenth street, during three months.

When Justice White announced his decision the stricken father rushed away and secured a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Andrews, of the Supreme Court, but when he returned to the court-room the Elmira officer had fled with his prey.

court-room the Elmira officer had fled with his prey.

Away went the all but crazed father to the Tombs, with a wild hope that he might find his son there, but he could not, nor could the boy be found in any of the police stations.

Unless some legal measure can be devised to make Supt. Brockway, of the Reformatory, release his prisoner, George will be doomed to a considerable term of incarceration.

The Jury Could Not Agree. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] Boston, Dec. 14.—After being out twenty-four hours the jury in the suit for damages against the Allan Line Steamship Company re-turned a disagreement this morning and were discharged. Funeral of a Retired Landlord.

Private funeral services over the remains of were held this morning at the family residence, 111 East Nineteenth street. The body will be forwarded to-morrow morning to Agawam Mass., where the burial will take place.

Sad End of an Ex-Minister. Ex-Corporation Counsel Archibald K. Brown, formerly very prominent in Hudson County, and who was once United States Minister to Algeria, died to-day in the Jersey City Hospital of delirium. He married a daughter of Millionaire Hosea Clark, but she separated from him.

na.
Open.	High,	Low.
8342	- 8382	654
5136	5196	5137
1000	1000	1050
1049	10414	1035
.60	18013	-59%
10X8	10170	1000
334	334	334
1373	1373	137
20g	942	1200
2234	3574	2227
11394	11394	11327
28	28	28
40	40	40
	0014	2004
1334	1397	1997
18862	10012	- MAKE
3194	3947	31994
25%	2514	25%
4004	4056	4000
5834	5892	5754
227	354	200
3602	10042	Hill
46	4657	4592
NA.	8370	HOLE
3214	3214	3312
100	100	100
3792	19792	19792
24.	2414	24.
3172	3772	3972
91	21	21
33%	23%	93%
6114	64	61%
82%	8216	839
	07-15-15-15-15-15-15-15-15-15-15-15-15-15-	07-m

A Houston Street Flat Entered by Thieves at Noon.

Young Mrs. Samuels Robbed and Left Senseless.

She Identifies a Prisoner Held by the Prince Street Police.

Frederick Witte, aged twenty-four, is locked up in the Prince street station-house on suspicion of being one of two sneak thieves who entered the house 193 West Honston street in search of booty about noontime yesterday and who, being surprised while at work by a lady in the house, knocked her senseless and gagged

I The woman's name is Sarah Samuels. She was recently married, is twenty-two years of age, and her father-in-law owns the house. Mr. Samuels, sr., is a wealthy man. His business is that of supplying the furnishings of ocean steamships. He lives with his wife, son, son-in-law, daughter and daughter-in-law in the Houston street house.

Sarah Samuels was the only one at home at noon, yesterday. She was alone in the kitchen.

when it occurred to her to go upstairs to the rear room, which they use for a parlor, and replenish the fire. She did so. As she walked into the room, banging the door behind her, two young men walked out of a bedroom adjoining, Mrs. Samuels is of a very nervous temperament, and this sudden appearance frightened her so that she could hardly stand.

her so that she could hardly stand.

"What do you want here?" she managed to gasp, grasping the back of a chair for support. The men walked towards her, without any great haste, and one of them answered:

"We will have to trouble you for them rings and them diamond earrings, missy."

"You can't have them. Go away or will call my husband," she cried, turning pale.

She attempted to go towards the door, when one of the intruders clinched his fist and struck her a violent blow in the face. She fell senseless, at full length, on the carpeted floor.

Half an hour later her husband, coming home to dinner, found her lying there, still unconscious.

to dinner, found her lying there, sim unconscious.

A white handkerchief was tied lightly across her mouth and knotted by the ends at the back of the head. Then it was found that three rings that she had worn had been stolen, also the chip diamond earrings from her ears. The stolen lewelry was valued at $198.

Mr. Bamuels hurried to the Prince street station and reported the occurrence to Police Capt. Thompson. The Captain, with Detectives O'Brien and Bavercool, went immediately to the house.

house.

The front door of the building is always kept locked. Capt. Thompson found, however, that the thieves could easily gain access to the house by going through an alley leading to a reachouse, and then going into the front house by the rest door.

house, and then going into the front house by the rear door.

The stairs are carpeted, and the footfalls of the thieves were not heard. They had forced the door of the hall bedroom on the third floor and had packed up a large bundle of wearing apparel when the lady's entrance into the next room disturbed them.

O'Brien and Savercool met Witte on the Bowery last night and arrested him on suspicion of being implicated in the bold burglary. He is a well-known crook, but swears that he is innecent of this crime.

At the Prince street station he was mixed up with seven other men and Mrs. Samnels was brought before them to see if she could identify Witte. Slowly she looked the men over, and then pointing her hand at Witte said:

'That is the man."

I swear you are mistaken, lady, "cried the

"I swear you are mistaken, lady," eried the

"I have is the man."
I swear you are mistaken, lady, "cried the prisoner.
"I am not," she answered positively.
To an Evenino Would reporter, this morning.
Capt. Thompson said:
"While I am sure that Mrs. Samuels told the truth about the robbery, she may be mistaken in the man. With his impressed me with his protestations of innocence. He says he was at work all day yesterday and that his employers will prove it. He claims to have led an honest life for two years past. If he is telling the truth I want justice done him.
"I will take him to Jefferson Market Police Court this afternoon; and meantime I will have seen his employers, and if they can subtsantiate his story he will be discharged.
"I will not say where he works unless I find that he is probably guilty. In that case I will give his address and occupation. He is unmarried."

THINKS HE IS MR. HOULIHAN.

Vagaries of Newtown's Representativeelect to the Connecticut Legislature. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

BRIDGEFORT, Conn., Dec. 14.—The friends and constituents of Michael J. Cavanagh are onsiderably exercised over his state of mind. Michael is a popular teamster and man of all work at the Central Hotel, Newtown, Conn. He was nominated and elected last campaign as Bepresentative to the Connecticut Legislature. He bet all he possessed in the world on the result

He bet all he possessed in the world on the result and won.

His election, or the winning of his wager, has turned his head. He imagines himself M. J. Houlihan, proprietor of the Central Hotel. He looks upon Mr. Houlihan as his double. Michael has assumed Mr. Houlihan's office chair, to the enjoyment of the real proprietor, who humors the hallucination of the representative. The hotel sitters are half tickled out of their wits by the lordly demeanor of the imaginary landlord. Blank forms have been sent from Hartford for Michael to fill out. In these credentials he has called himself Mr. Houlihan and proprietor of the Central House. He has gone about the State a good deal of late and introduced himself as Mr. Houlihan.

One of Michael's vagaries is that at the next session of the Legislature a large amount of boodle is to be distributed among the members. He is already discussing the best way to invest his portion.

Under the rotten borough system prevailing in Connecticut the rural towns have been reprein Connecticut the rural towns have been represented from time to time by some extraordinary characters; but it is doubtful whether the State of Roger Sherman and Jonathan Trumbull has heretofore produced the parallel of Michael. Stiff Sentence for the Dog-Catchers.

Patrick McCarthy and John Lynch, the dogcatchers who were convicted of assault in the third degree while trying to take a pet bull ter-rier from Miss Mary D. Brooks, of 38 East Bitty-fifth street, were each sentenced to a year in the peniteutiary, and a fine of $500 by Judge Cowing in the Court of General Sessions this He Stabbed Him Three Times.

Bruhn, of 159 Chrystic street, three times in the head. O'Brien was held for examination in default of $1,000 bail by Judge Duffy at Essex Market this morning. Brooklyn News in Brief.

Breeklyn News in Brief.

Fire last night in the four-story brick dwelling 574 Fulton street caused a total damage of $19,000.

William Goble, of 103 Hamilton avenue, lies in a precarious condition at the College Hospital. While intoxicated last night he drank creosote in mistake for cholers mixture.

George Eerbe, a German baker, living at 596 Third avenue, committed suicide this morning by shooting himself in the head, while engaged over his third failure, in three days, with a batch of bread.

SANTA CLAUS AT THE 'PHONE.

The Jolly Old Patron Saint Calls His Big Children Up First.

Too bashful ?" Well, the Capitol.

l love her—though I've never seen her,

I've got the Treasury on my Slate For any one that's named by you-

Platt, Miller, Hiscock or Depew!

Hello, hello there, Bill Mahone,

To crown its brilliant diadem

I'll give, and without hesitation-

If you the Solid South would save

With this, I pray you, take a shave!

Last, to "The Evening World" a gen

THE LARGEST EVENING CIRCULATION!

FLAMES ON BROADWAY.

The Stereopticon Man Burned Out and

Lot of Buggage Sonked.

Fire broke out at 11.30 o'clock this morning on the top floor of the frame building occupied by the New York, Lake Eric and Western Railroad ticket-office, at Broadway and Twenty-third street, where the stereoption screen is

The fire started in the apartments occupied by

AN INFERNAL MACHINE.

It Causes Some Excitement Among the Brooklyn Police.

No little excitement is prevalent among the Brooklyn police this morning over the finding

It was taken to the Tenth Precinct Station-

WON'T COVER SULLIVAN'S MONEY.

Mr. Fox Leaves Kilrain to Make His Own Jake Kilrain, Richard K. Fox's $10,000 chamion, came to this city yesterday afternoon at 4 to the office of Mr. Fox, surprising that gentle-

Peter Mitchell, the criminal attorney, appeared on the scene, and a consultation of the three

Up to 1 o'clock to-day the money had not been

Mr. Dixon Was Refractory.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] Boston, Dec. 14.—James Dixon, of New York City, a Harvard student, created a disturbance man just as he was preparing to go home. Before the two men had been together long of an alleged infernal machine.

What ho, New York, proud Empire State,

I think, would like this kind of doll!

Now give me Hayti if you're able,

Ob, Central, by Atlantic Cable;

And so I give ber the-Galena!

ome, children, waltz up to the 'Phone And make your views and wishes known! You may as well express your will! Hello, Hello! Is that you, Ben?

I hope your stocking's large! Now, then, Say what you'd like! What's that? "You can't ?" Well, look out for an Elephant! Hello, Hello, Hello, Hello! Is that Columbus? Hello, Joe!

I've got a drum for you, my boy, Now rouse the Nation with your toy! Give me the City Hall! Now, Hugh, I've got a pretty gift for you, Shapely and stocked with dainty things That suggest angels—without wings!

Speak up, what would you like to have t

Hello there, Albany! Now, Dave,

FOUR BULLETS IN HER BODY. Nellie O'Connor Ruthlessly Murdered for a

Light Word. Up to this hour Joseph Ford, who shot and killed Nellie O'Connor, last evening, has not been captured, although detectives have scoured he city in search of him. Ford lived on the top floor of 119 Fourth avenue, with a Mrs. King. His pretty victim lived with Thomas Barry on the floor below. Neither couple were married. The two families were on intimate terms of friendship until last Sunday night.

During the evening Barry and the O'Connor girl went upstairs to visit Ford and Mrs. King. Ford was absent. The party had drunk considerable beer, when Barry walked around the table and kissed Mrs. King. Miss O'Connor became jealous and swore she would tell Ford about it when she next saw him. She kept her

The fire started in the apartments occupied by Emanuel Hart, dealer in stereopticon views, and did not get lower, but the water drenched the ower floors, particularly the railway storage rooms, where a lot of freight being transported by Wells, Fargo & Cs. was badly damaged.

Other occupants of the building who sustained damage by water were E. S. Mills, realestate agent; R. P. Ayres, furnisher, and Brower, the florist. The total damage is estimated at $3,000; $1,000 to the building and $2,000 to stock.

Mr. James D. Townsend, who was walking down Broadway, saw the back room filled with flames, which instantly burst out from the window. dow.

The big policeman at the corner was notified, and an alarm was sent out.

When the engines got there the whole place The next time the men met Ford asked Barry what he meant by kissing his girl. Barry denied the kissing, and Mrs. King said he lied, Wherewas on fire.

Two Fifth avenue stages, half a dozen cars of different lines and four private carriages got mixed up in an inextricable tangle.

Thousands of shoppers helped to make the confusion greater. The Broadway cars were blocked for some time. upon Ford pulled out a heavy revolver and began shooting at King, who, however, escaped unipinged

Last evening Ford was in his room with Mrs. King, Mrs. Henry Miller and Thomas Dooley when Nellie O'Connor came in. She began chaffing Ford about the scrape of the night fore and accused Mrs. King of being unfaithful to him.

Ford, who was also drunk, swore, but Miss O'Connor kept up a running fire of talk. Suddenly Ford immed up, and hissed: "And I'll kill you, too!" Before his tormentor could escape he pulled the revolver and blazed away at her. One bullet struck her in the shoulder, another in her left arm, and the other two went through her lungs.

The murderer escaped, and Mrs. King, Mrs. Miller and Dooley ran to the street. Some time afterward groans were heard in the hallway, and Miller and Dooley ran to the street. Some time afterward groans were heard in the hallway, and one of the lodgers in the house went to Miss O'Connor's assistance. She was removed to Bellevue Hospital, where she died early this morning.

O'Connor's assistance. She was removed to Bellevue Hospital, where she died early this morning.

The police caught the two female witnesses later, but they denied seeing the shooting. They claim that their backs were turned at the time. Ford, the murderer, had a wife and five children living at 339 East Eleventh street, whom he visited occasionally. He has not been there for the past week, but Mrs. Ford received a postal card yesterday mailed at the General Postoffice, on which was written, "I give up all hopes, I." This is looked upon by the police as proof that Ford premeditated the crime.

The murdered man is well connected, but has the reputation of a forger and common loafer. Two weeks ago he passed a check for $20 on a saloon-keeper, and since then has been in hiding. It is also said that he was in forme way connected with the killing of young Dunn, who died of a fist-blow given him in a fight at Fulton street and Broadway.

Mrs. Reed, the housekeeper, of 111 Fourth avenue, blames the whole crime on the King woman, who, she says, was a mischief-maker. The dead girl was well educated, and claimed to have relatives in Watertown, N. Y.

Two young girls named Kate Dixon and Emma Mohr were held at Jefferson Maret Court this morning on a charge of burglary in the apartments of Rose Mohan, 24 Rennick street. Miss Mohan said that yesterday she went out, leaving the door locked. During her absence the girls forced the bolt, ransacked the place and carried off six dresses. The dresses were found in a Broome street pawn shop. During a dispute on Chrystic street early this morning Patrick O'Brien stabled Charles Gov. Hill and Col. Lamont Here Together.

> night. Col. Dan Lamont is also there, but the simultaneous visit is said to have no particular significance. Gov. Hill returns to Albany to-morrow. D. A. Stewart, of Curnegie's Firm, Dead. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]
> PITTSBURG, Dec. 14.—D.A. Stewart, President of the firm of Carnegie, Phipps & Co., was found dead in bed this morning. He was about yester-day attending to his business as usual.

Gov. Hill and his secretary are at the Hoffman

MR. BLAINE IS MUM. Uncommunicative on the Subject of the State Portfolio.

Joseph Manley Thinks "The Plumed Knight" Will Be the Man.

But Is Positive That the Matter He Not Yet Been Settled,

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] AUGUSTA, Me., Dec. 14. - Telegrams of inquiry have been coming to this city all the forenoon asking for information as to whether the statements published in a New York paper this morning that President-elect Harrison had offered the portfolio of State to Mr. Blaine, and that he would accept the same, and that the letters which had passed between the two would be made public, were true.

THE EVENING WORLD correspondent called npon Mr. Blaine at his residence this forenoon o ascertain the exact truth of the matter. to ascertain the exact truth of the matter.

While Mr. Blaine was very courteous, he had not a word to say on the subject. He had heard the rumor early in the morning.

The reporter then called upon Joseph Manley, Chairman of the Republican Biate Committee, at his office on Water street.

'You may tell The Evening World," said Mr. Manley, 'that no one knows anything about the matter here, and we should probably know it if anybody did. I think you might safely say it as an absolute fact that it is not so.

'While I do now and always have believed that the position will be tendered to Mr. Blaine, and that he will accept, I know that it has not been done. This is simply my own private opinion, and is not based on anything that Mr. Blaine has told me."

The Blaine story was the general subject of conversation at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this said ex-Secretary of the Treasury Charles E. Coon.

"Good!" was the comment of ex-Assemblyman Kruse, of Olean, a member of the State Excise Commission.

"Blaine's appointment is perfectly satisfactory to me," remarked State Senator Arnold, of Unadilla.

Warner Miller found time to say that he knew nothing about the rumor, and added that he is not engaged in making Gen. Harrison's Cabinet, which will be good news to Mr. Platt and his friends. These many years your beard has grown!

net, which will be good news to Mr. Platt and his friends.
State Senator Hendricks, of Syracuse, the right-hand man of United States Senator Hiscock, said:
"I suppose those who publish the statement that Mr. Blaine has been offered the Secretary-ship of State got their information from the the same source that I did."
Whether or not that source is reliable, Senator Hendricks would not say.

Gen. Harrison Also Silent

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 14. -Gen. Harrison upon being shown the despatch from Wash-ington stating that James G. Blaine had been offered and had accepted the portfolio of State this morning said that he would be obliged to pursue the course he has all along adhered to of heither denying nor confirming Cabinet ru-mors of any sort.

He absolutely refused to say anything about

The report is believed by many here.

WILLIAM O'BRIEN, M. P., SUMMONED.

The Man Who Likened Home Rulers to the Whitechapel Murderer Also Must Appear. [BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.] ONDON, Dec. 14. -William O'Brien, M. P. has been summoned to appear before the Parnell Commission to-morrow and answer for an article published in his paper, United Ireland, commenting severely on the Court.

The Warden of Merton College has also been summoned before the Commission for prejudening and prejudeing the case by publicly likening the Home liulers on trial to the Whitechapel

SAW GEN. HARRISON AND GOT DRUNK. Prof. Charrons, Who Saw Old Tipperanor

Inaugurated, in Indianapolis Workhouse. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] Indianapolis, Ind., Dec, 14.-Prof. J. B Charrons is seventy-two years of age, a graduate of a Calcutta college and speaks twenty different languages. He is a lecturer on "Life in the East Indies," and dresses in an East Indian costume made of red horse blankets. He came here to visit Gen, Harrison, haying attended the inauguration of his grandfather in 1840. This morning he was sent to the work-house by Mayor Denny for drunkenness.

Guttenburg Entries for To-Morrow. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] NORTH HUDSON DRIVING PARK, N. J., Dec. 14.-Here are the Guttenburg entries for Saturday.

It was taken to the Tenth Precinct Station-House last night by a patrolman to whom it was handed by Michael McHugh, a saloonkeeper, at 658 Washington avenue.

It was left with Mr. McHugh in a package which also contained an anonymous note, stating that the box was a patent, and that its inventor would call in for it on Saturday.

Francis Stone, an habitne of the saloon, pulled open the sliding cover of the box, and as he did open the sliding cover of the box, and as he did open the sliding cover of the box and as he did on a slight explosion greeted his ears.

Instead of dropping the box he blew out the incipient blaze in its interior and made a further investigation. Fastened on the inner side of the cover was a strip of sandpaper which had ignited a row of matches placed on end at the bottom of the box.

A quantity of broken glass and cotton waste were near the matches, with a small vial containing some dark-colored fluid and a sealed till box. The liquid and the contents of the box will be analyzed. Dec. 15:

First Race-Purse $200, for two-year-old maidens, ive-eighths of a mile.—Laborer, 115: Now Them, 115: gerelighths of a mile.—Laborer, 115: Now Them, 115: Gatling, 115: Cracksman, 115: Frank Wheeler, 115: My Nannie O. colt. 115: Spray colt. 115: Araia, 115: Skip, 112: W. G. Burns, 112; Hollowood, 117 loss 113; L. Village Maid, 112: Fashiomette gold, 118 lb. Second Race.—Three-quarters of a mile; selling allowances $200.—Numred, 116: Carrie G., 116: Lomaz, 113: Cabinet, 113: Tocor, 113: Waff, 113: Tecacions, 113: Medie, 113: Not Guiliy, 113: Moy Boy, 10: Havana, 110: Commution, 110: Warren Lowis, 110: Havana, 110: Commution, 110: Valvet, 110: Traveller, 110: Pat Dennis, 107: Bob May, 107: Russ, 107: Ohinchilis, 107: Phil Thompson, 107: Brankle G., 107: Albaby, 107: Massumah, 107: Duke of Cherwell, 107: Ib. Chinchilla, 107. Phill Thompson, 107; Frankle B., 107. Albany, 107; Manumah, 107; Duke of Charwell, 107 lb.

Third Race—Seven-eighths of a mile; selling allowances; $200.—Charley Arnold, 129; Lord Reacensfield, 129; Ariel, 129; Brier, 129; Teution, 129; Delano, 129; Landscer, 123; Sam Brown, 123; California, 121; Fak Cakley, 120; Socks, 120; Mainle, 123; Freemote, 123; Glinzard, 123; Sam Brown, 123; California, 121; Fak Cakley, 120; Mamie Hay, 120; Krishna, 120; Fagin, 120; Mamie Hay, 120; Krishna, 120; Fagin, 120; Vongeance, 110; Lagardere, 120; Fagin, 120; Vongeance, 118; Julia Miller, 115; John O., 115; Cec. Corbett, 115; Thuron, 101 lb.

Fourth Race—Seven-eighths of a mile; selling allowences, purse $290.—Frolio, 115; Silver Star, 115; Master Waiter, 114; Armstrong, 113; Top Sawyer, 112; Keystone, 110; Bela, 110; Tyrone, 110; Bago, 100; Base Voil 100; Frankle W., 108; Matteexwan, 108; Tony Fastor, 107; Warder, 105; John Shaw, 105; Hallstone, 105; Peter Lin, 110; King H, 105; B., Frinh Race—Mile and one-quarter; selling allowances $250.—True Born, 118; Fenelou, 113; Joe Mitchill, 104; Relei Scout, 103; Major Vigitance, 100; Orlando, 100; Flush, D1; Alveda, 91; b. o'clock from Baltimore and proceeded directly men followed.

These facts were revealed to an Evening Works reporter this morning, and were admitted by Mr. Fox when asked about them.

The state of Kilrain's mind caused by the delay at covering Sullivan's $5,000 in the Clipper office was explained by a mutual friend of both parties who talked with Kilrain and who said:

"Jake is dead sore."

The consultation did not result in any satisfactory decision. Mr. Fox said: "I will not cover Sullivan's forfeit, but Kilrain will do so if he so desires."

Fair, Cold and High Winds.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.

-Weather indications:

For Eastern New

York - Fair, contin-